

THE PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

In 1986 Bruce Cecil and Bernard Leach formed Aspen Air Conditioning. The business grew rapidly on the back of the retail boom and expanded into office and industrial air conditioning.

Today, the Aspen Group consists of companies carrying out design, installation, preventative maintenance and repair of air conditioning systems for all types of commercial and residential applications, from a small office or bedroom to a large retail store or office block. Also within the Aspen Group are Aspen Pumps and BBJ Accessories, who are well known for the supply of condensate pumps and ancillary air conditioning products to more than 40 countries worldwide.

From initial FREE site survey or customer brief, Aspen Air Conditioning will carry out a professional design and put forward competitively priced proposals. Aspen Air Conditioning's own trained and experienced staff will carry out the installation quickly and efficiently with minimum disruption.

Aspen Air Conditioning are approved installers for all major equipment brands. For peace of mind Aspen Air Conditioning offer up to 5 years warranty on certain brands of equipment (subject to take up of an Aspen Air Conditioning maintenance contract).
