

Year-round comfortable interior environments that do not cost the earth

RETAIL

This is where Aspen Air Conditioning began, with the very first installation being in the Kings Road, London in 1986. Retail projects are demanding as the installations are often on very tight programmes. From a design point of view, the equipment has to be unobtrusive - often within the ceiling to keep valuable wall and floor space clear - and robust, as the working environment can be quite demanding. Aspen Air Conditioning is used to working in this field where speed, flexibility and co-operation are vital qualities.

Aspen Air Conditioning continues to have a strong presence on the high street, involved in projects from small corner shops to national chains. Past and present clients include William Hill, Barclays Bank, Lloyds TSB, Ladbrokes, Body Shop, Oasis, Alliance & Leicester, Bradford & Bingley, Tie Rack, Asda, H & M Hennes and British Bookshops.

OFFICES

Designing and installing air conditioning for an office can be different in several ways to dealing with a retail application, for example, the office could be divided into a mix of open-plan and small office areas.

There may be some areas that need special attention, such as a computer room, boardroom, or a canteen. It is important that all these factors are addressed correctly to ensure the customer has a system that meets their needs.

Aspen Air Conditioning has a strong track record in successfully carrying out this type of work, whether for a small office with one occupant or for a large office block.

Often installations are carried out in working offices. Aspen Air Conditioning and its staff are well practiced at co-ordinating with the client and being flexible in working to ensure the installation is carried out with the minimum of disruption.
